

GENERATING. SUCCESS.

The company DIENES with its long tradition was established in Remscheid in 1913 by Karl Rudolf Dienes. Even at that time, he accepted the challenge of adapting his cutting products and developments to exactly match the requirements of the customers. In doing so, he laid the foundations for a globally successful development. The DIENES Group, in the meantime managed by the third generation, Bernd und Rudolf Supe-Dienes, is today the world's leading precision provider in the fields of industrial knives, knife holders and slitting systems, and is an innovative partner for plate valves and regulators. Meanwhile, nearly 500 employees in several global locations in Germany, the USA, Asia, Poland and France are coordinated from the company's headquarters in Overath near Cologne.

Over 100 years of experience in mechanical engineering, valuable user knowledge, continuous research in the own development department and the latest technology today enable us, as a manufacturer and development partner, to guarantee customers the highest quality from a single source more than ever before. DIENES continuously setting new standards in the precise realisation of required product characteristics. DIENES customer benefit from trend-setting innovations in the paper, aluminium, steel, non-ferrous metal, film and foil, labels and adhesive tape, non-woven materials, and tissue and textile processing industries, in the rubber and plastics sector and in the printing industry. The mechanical engineering customers also achieve outstanding performance in the valve sector with DIENES valves and regulator components.

From standardised serial production to individual, user-specific special solutions, DIENES meet every technical expectation. Flexibly, reliably and with a strength supported by numerous patents and with a proximity to the customer which has always been of the utmost importance to us.
